

COLLEGE MONGO BETI
ACADEMIC YEAR	ASSESSMENT	SUBJECT	CLASS	DURATION	COEFFICIENT
2024-2025	N° 04	ANGLAIS	2 ND A/C	02 Hours	3
Teacher's name : Mrs. Inechioma		Candidate's number

Candidate's name _____

Competence Assessed: Using language to talk about civic and legal rights, responsibilities and infractions.

Appreciation of competence / Mark range

0 - 10 /20	11-14 /20	15- 17 /20	18- 20 /20	Total mark
Not acquired	On going acquisition	Competence acquired	Expert

Date _____

SECTION A: RESOURCE

TASK 1: GRAMMAR (10 MARKS)

i. Choose the correct word from the tiles and complete this dialogue between two students on the importance of Education to a girl child. (5marks)

Was,	should,	won't,	take,	were
------	---------	--------	-------	------

AMBE: Hello, good morning Maria, how are you?

MARIA: I'm fine AMBE and you?

AMBE: I'm also fine but it seems you _____ go to school today why?

MARIA: It is because my mother is very sick, so I wish to assist her in farm work and in addition to that, we _____ just cleared the farm.

AMBE: Ok, if that's the reason then I'm alright with you because I almost taught you wanted to drop out from school. Since in the past "women's place _____ in the kitchen and in the farm."

MARIA: Oh no, today I've to _____ my studies very serious because my dream is to become a pilot. Don't forget that there's a saying that "What a man does, a woman does better".

AMBE: You are right Maria, you see today in this our present society, we are fighting against gender equality. So both man and woman _____ be given equal rights and treatment.

MARIA: Ok Ambe, thanks for your understanding, see you tomorrow in school.

AMBE: You are welcome. Bye for now.

ii. Fill in the blank spaces with the correct item chosen from the brackets. (2.5marks)

- One would wish _____ missed the party. (to have not, for having not, not to have)
- Whenever Julio was angry, he _____ out of the room. (will walk, would walk, walk)
- The students who were caught smoking in the school premises with drugs resigned _____ ? (isn't he, is he, hasn't he, didn't they)
- My parents left since, _____ ? (didn't he, didn't they, did he, didn't they)
- "I will not be able to do te sport because of the injury I had last week" said Job. (write in indirect speech)

iii. Choose the correct word to complete each sentence. (2.5 marks)

- She told the truth _____ (in order not to be, to not be) punished.
- You have to register on electoral lists _____ (in order to vote / to vote in order) in the elections.
- We speak both English and French _____ (so we that understand / so that we understand) each other well.
- He helped the new policewoman _____ (so as not to fail / as so not to fail) in her first mission.
- The child was able to pass her exam _____ he was not really serious in class. (because, if, although)

TASK 2: Vocabulary (10 marks)

i. Use suffixes to make the correct part of speech from each word in brackets. (5 marks)

1. The _____ (govern) of a country makes law and ensures that people respect the law.
2. "Thank you. You have been very _____ (help)," said the police officer.
3. Our country will hold a national _____ (elect) next year.
4. What is the _____ (punish) for theft in your country?
5. Crimes are punished _____ (different) in some countries, depending on the laws.

ii. Choose the best meaning for the underlined word or phrase in each sentence. (2 mark)

1. If you see a crime, you have an obligation to report the crime to the police.
_____ (right, duty, Moral)
2. If you are a citizen and you are 18 years or older, you are eligible to vote.

_____ (May not, the right to, Have a duty to)

iii. Use a prefix to make an antonym for each underlined word. (3 marks)

3. Responsible citizens should always respect the laws of their country _____
4. We are always reminded of our both the Legal right as a citizen, _____
5. Our regular participation in voting our leaders is a true spirit of patriotism _____

SECTION B COMPETENCE

TASK 1: READING COMPREHENSION

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow. (10 marks)

Niam's wife had left him. I don't know what minor incident finally caused the crisis; what last straw broke this female camel's backs back. The important thing is that one morning, when he got up, Niam perceived to his astonishment that his wife had vanished, taking all her property with her. That, by the way, is how they always manage it, hence their nickname of fly-by-nights. A few days later, our family heard that Niam's wife had gone back to her father. So far, her behavior had followed then usual pattern. The unexpected thing was that she swore (it was said) never to return to her husband's house again. Some months passed. At first Niam put a fine face on the business, declaring cheerfully that he'd seen this kind of thing before, his wife had run on several previous occasions and had always come back at the end. After six months, Niam grew impatient. First of all he paid a visit one evening to Bikokolo, a well-respected old man and the village Solomon. He confessed (not without an effort, since his pride was enormous) that he wanted to get his wife back; he desperately needed her to run the race for him. In fact, he had even more pressing reason, since his wife's departure he had lost a whole season's groundnut crop through lack of anyone to work in his fields. Old Bikokolo, at the end of this interview strongly advised him to Old Bikokolo, at the end of this interview strongly advised him to swallow his vanity and pride, at least for a while. After all, he pointed out, the recovery of a rebellious wife was a serious matter. Niam reflected, as he went away, that it was easier to give such advice than take it.

After this, guided both by the old man's suggestions and his own code of behavior (which forbade him to take any direct part in bargaining deal, so as not to lose face in front of his wife), he got in-touch with his father-in-law through several intermediaries, somehow giving the impression that he had nothing to do with the move at all. The whole village soon found out that Niam had opened negotiations with his in-laws, and had even sent them presents. But this was nothing to the general astonishment felt, when Niam's father-in-law (having accepted his gifts) made the following pronouncement. "My daughter," he declared, 'is quite old enough to know what she wants – and more to the point, what she doesn't want." This complete rejection of a lawful demand by a mere father in-law, too was regarded as completely scandalous. Everyone in the village began to wonder just what these people wanted.

Questions

1. Why did Niam's wife leave?

2. What does the phrase Niam 'put a fine face on the business', means?

3. Why did Niam go to confess to Bikokolo?

4. Why did the people in Bikokolo shock?

5. What did you learn from this story?

TASK 2. Composition writing (10 marks)

Write a composition of about 200 words on any one topic of the following.

1. What are your rights and obligations as a student in your school? Write down five rights and their matching obligations.
2. Describe the notion of common offences and legal consequences of in relation to the Cameroon court of law
3. What are the advantages and the disadvantages of a democratic system of government?
4. Describe an important national event that always takes place in your country and which you participated in it. In your work: -State the various activities that take place during the event. What is the importance of the event?

Sujetexa.com